

2) In this question, we have made a system call, similar to `onedcopy` but for two-D arrays, `twodcopy`(using concepts from tutorial 7). Kernel functions like `_copy_from_user()` and `__copy_to_user()` were used to read and write data.